This program addresses the need to provide honors-level scholarship in the major area of study during the first two years of study. The Honors Agreement is the first of three levels which include the Honors Contract and the Honors Capstone Project.

In addition to HNRS and "H" classes, students may earn honors credit in entry-level courses (numbered 249 and below) in their major area of study by creating an Honors Agreement. Students who are enrolled in the Honors College at the time of course enrollment are eligible. Specific, independent work beyond the scope of the regular class syllabus must be identified in the Honors Agreement and approved by the course instructor. A student must complete all parts of the Honors Agreement and earn a "B" or better in the course to receive Honors credit on their transcript. Some areas of study (COMP 170, NURS 100, for example) have entry-level courses designated for Honors credit. The Honors Agreement is designed for areas of study where such classes do not exist.

These three elements must be present in the Honors Agreement. Students must describe the method by which these elements will be accomplished.

- Advanced supplemental reading
- Demonstration of critical thinking, analysis skills, or translation and interpretation skills
- Demonstrated greater depth and understanding of course content
